

Danielle & Nathan

WEDDINGS
BY MAGNANIMOUS

A refined celebration under a graciously lit tent was filled with pale pink floral design and mementos of the couple's elegant taste.

details of distinction

Ceremony

• FEATURED VENDORS •

the hidden garden
 hidden-garden-flowers.com (floral design)

jennifer dery photography
 jenniferdery.com
 (photography)

• OTHER CONTRIBUTING VENDORS •

(location, catering) rancho valencia (coordinator) joy productions (entails, favors) classic party rentals (seats) designs by dora (lighting) incense by lighting (stationery) r'st paper inc. (table, favors) michèle couter (casserole) entertainment (dishes) productions, la jolla (disc jockey) videographer) bob hoffman video productions (gown designer, bridal salon) winnie - couture (bridal shoes) christen toboutin (bridesmaid dresses) twixtix bridesmaid (honeymoon destination) shiva

their love story

Their tale is a true love-at-first-sight story. Nathan saw Danielle across a crowded restaurant in New York City, followed her to her cab and got her number. The rest, as they say, is history! Ever the gentleman, Nathan flew to Danielle's hometown of San Diego to ask her parents for her hand in marriage, a gesture still talked about to this day. Nathan swept Danielle off to Nantucket for a long weekend. Candlelight, flowers and cards in each room with promises made by Nathan led Danielle to his proposal.

SHARE THE LOVE

Read their story, link to vendors, see more photos.
 Most of this real wedding appearing in 2011 on

CaliforniaWeddingWave.com